S R,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No.L. 5392-3/Med. 76-22-2 dated 27th January 1923 forwarding copy of letter No.240 dated 9th September 1922 from the Superintendent, Lunatic Asylum, Bangalore, reporting that the police brought a lunatic for admission into the Asylum almost naked and requesting the Chief Court to issue instructions for preventing such occurrences in future.

2. In reply I am to state that as the Chief Court has no statutory powers to frame rules under the Lunacy Regulation and the matter is one concerning, not only the procedure of judicial officers, but also the conduct of the agency escorting the lunatic to the Asylum, it seems preferable that rules should be framed by Government in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 62, (1) of the Lunacy Regulation I of 1916, particularly clauses (e) and (f).

3. At the same time, with a view to facilitate the framing of suitable rules by Government in the matter, I am to forward the accompanyi draft rules, in the preparation of which the rules in force in British India have been taken into consideration.

I have the honor to be,

As the rules already issued do not provide for the conveyance of lunatics to Asylums, the words "Supplementary" in the preamble may perhaps be omitted.

The word 'Supplementary' has been used in view of the fact that some rules already exist. In that case, it is better to end the preamble with the words "Supplementary rules"

Underneath in italics "Conveyance of lunatics to the Lunatic Asylum" may go as a heading, as in the case of the rules already issued. This will preserve formality.

Otherwise, the rules appear to be appropriate

No. L3251 dated 6/11/25

Med 76.22-4

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 62 of the Mysore Lunacy Regulation No.1 of 1916, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to make the following ~~supplementary~~ supplementary rules in regard to the conveyance of lunatics to the Lunatic Asylum :--

(to these issued in Notification No J 36 76/Pris 9-16-8 dated the 17th April 1917)

1. Before sending a lunatic to the Asylum, enquiries should be made as to whether accommodation is available.

2. The Judicial Officer who despatches the lunatic is held responsible that the escort is provided with sufficient means to buy suitable cooked food (including, where necessary, such articles as milk, coffee or biscuits) for the use of the lunatic during his journey to the Asylum and that the lunatic is provided with sufficient and suitable clothing.

3. If the person legally bound to maintain the lunatic is unable to provide the means to buy the food or the clothing, they should be provided at Government expense.

4. Every female lunatic sent to the Asylum should be accompanied by a female attendant or relative in addition to the usual police escort.

5. A lunatic should not be hand-cuffed or led by a chain, or otherwise subjected to barbarous or violent treatment, unless there is imminent danger of his inflicting injuries on himself or on the escort, and even in such cases no more physical force or restraint should be used than is absolutely necessary to prevent the danger apprehended.

6. The Superintendent, Lunatic Asylum is authorised to bring to the notice of Government through the Senior Surgeon any infraction of these rules.
